King the President of the French Republic, the Prime Minister—that every Canadian must feel proud in a day so wholly and beautifully done.

Some expression of that feeling to every likely to be made by Canadians on November 11th this year, when, with the aid of the Poppy Fund, the opportunity is given to render some measure of gratitude to those who, one night way, fell in the war but did not die.

For that is effect, is what happened in the case of the Poppy Fund. Canadian young men. Wounded, disabled in body and spirit, these multitudes of our fallen men have received the same sort of aid and handling, of distress, frustration and disappointment in the daily race of life, regardless of the help of the Poppy Fund, as they have in the war. On the basis of the industrially beautiful memorial on Vimy Ridge, these are the same old men, the same old men of the 11,283 Canadian soldiers whose bodies have never been found, whose names do not appear on the roll of the fallen.

These are the same old men, the same old men of the 11,283 Canadian soldiers whose bodies have never been found, whose names do not appear on the roll of the fallen.

STORING AND PURIFYING FARM DRINKING WATER

Lethbridge Experimental Station
Weekly Letter

Storing and purifying drinking water are important considerations on many private farms where water is often not available, and water can be obtained only by hand.

Water taken from a neighboring well, from a nearby lake or stream, or from a nearby irrigation canal, is often not available, and water can be obtained only by hand.

Why a Railway Engine Puffs

The puff-puff of a locomotive is familiar to all, but few people seem to know just what makes the puff, according to the Canadian National Railway.
